Tracking Information

Like most every web site, the AdJuice web site records certain tracking information any time someone visits the site. For every web page that is viewed, our web server records an IP address, the operating system, browser version and the name of the page that was viewed. This information is not linked to any specific user and is used in the aggregate to maintain, track performance and improve the AdJuice web service.

Cookies:

A cookie is a small piece of information that is stored by your browser on your computer's hard drive. AdJuice uses cookies for the sole purpose of uniquely identifying our users and securing their personal information. We also use cookies to track your order process without requiring reentry or re-verification of contact or password information on each page of the site. Rather than storing this information on AdJuice's server, the cookie is stored in your computer and is activated only when you visit the AdJuice site. Your privacy and security are not compromised when you accept a cookie from the AdJuice web site. No one can access the information except AdJuice.

Email & "Opt Out" Policy

We may use your email address provided during the User Registration process and in the Admin Section to contact you regarding the following:

1. Independent Marketing Representatives Registration Status (including confirmation of account signup)
2. Order Status
3. Major changes to the website, addition of new products or services
4. Promotional and marketing materials that we think you may find useful.

If you wish to not receive any of these emails you may opt-out by submitting your address to support@AdJuice.com.

AdJuice Website Security

The AdJuice web site uses secure sockets layer (SSL) to encrypt the transfer of sensitive information, such as your account password and billing information, from your web browser to our web server. Only the last four (4) digits of your credit card number will be displayed in your account. Emails you send to us may not be secure unless otherwise told that security measures will be in place prior to your transmitting the information. For this reason, we ask that you do not send confidential information such as credit card numbers through emails.

Your Consent:

In addition to the circumstances described above, AdJuice may disclose or release information when we, in good faith, believe that doing so is reasonably necessary:

(i) to comply with the law; (ii) to enforce or apply the terms of User Agreement; or (iii) to protect the rights, property or safety of kachingkaching.com, our users, or others. By using our web site, you consent to the collection and use of information by AdJuice as described in this Privacy Policy. If we decide to change our policy, we will post those changes here so you will always know what information we gather, how we use it and under what circumstances we disclose it. If you have any questions regarding AdJuice privacy policy and practices, please direct them to the AdJuice Support at support@AdJuice.com.
